Facing the Challenge - Just 1 in 5 Travel Agents is 45 Years of Age or Younger [1]

Innovation – mostly achieved by young and ambitious trendsetters - is lagging behind specifically in the travel industry. While some companies are hanging on to inherited market share, antiquated applications and traditional distribution channels, they are sure to miss the opportunities that change as well as talented young people can bring.

We create Synergies between the latest IT-Trends and your Requirements

We listen! Here at PASS Consulting our main focus is understanding your specific business to then create an IT-solution customized specifically for you - at the price of standard software. Our Travel World lets you fully determine which modules and features are vital to elevate your business to the next level.

PASS Consulting – Always a Pioneer in Travel Technology

Back in 2000 we were first to introduce XML to travel distribution; In 2002 we introduced our first mobile travel service for cell phones; In 2004 we presented the first graphical Point-of-Sale (POS); And now, in 2008, PASS Consulting again paves the road towards a new milestone in travel technology: Service Oriented Architecture (SOA) - the new wave in IT. The PASS Virtual Software Factory generates most of your application. Manual programming is reduced to less than 10%. The goal is for business analysts to not only design but also “develop” IT applications. This will surely become a focal point for every organization going forward.

Clients who trust in PASS Technology address 75% of the Global Travel Market

We offer access to travel content and inventory from various sources through one interface. PASS XX/1 displays GDS data formats via web services as a uniform XML.
